

The Lockhearts

Texas sister duo The Lockhearts have been captivating audiences everywhere with their beyond-their-years songwriting and blood harmonies. Paige and Kate have been singing together since they could talk, and they've been honing their craft ever since. Now 17 and 19, the duo infuse their music with all the matters of life, heart, and coming of age in the modern world.

The Austin Chronicle named The Lockhearts the winners of the 2025 Zev Award, recognizing them as an exemplary act under 18, and awarding them with a grant to pursue their creative ambitions.

Their dedication also caught the attention of Grammy Award-winning artist Kimberly Perry, who was quoted in Rolling Stone as being "excited about a young sister duo from Texas called The Lockhearts."

Since releasing their first four singles last year, The Lockhearts' music has accrued over 100K streams. The duo is constantly writing and recording, and have plans to release more music in the upcoming year.
